Joke of the quarter:

Why do bananas wear sunscreen??

Because they peel!

Hello, friends!

Keep an eye on your mailbox—you should have received a special postcard in the mail. Follow the instructions and stop by the bank to pick up your book for summer reading! Reading is a great way to keep your mind active and growing all summer.

Summer is perfect for outdoor adventures, but remember to stay safe while you're having fun. Protect your skin with sunscreen, and if you're biking, skateboarding, or riding a scooter, make sure you gear up with a helmet and pads for your elbows and knees. Staying safe helps make every activity even more enjoyable.

Can't wait to see you soon!

Hey Mom & Dad!

Feature Story: Exploring Nature!

Nature is good for everyone’s mental and physical health...from the fresh air to the green grass!

Go exploring in nature—look closely at details you’ve never noticed before. Make a list of things in nature to look for and begin your nature walk.

Start by wearing a fun ‘explorer’ costumer that you can create yourself—like a vest with pockets to hold all of your treasures!

Grab a clipboard, markers, and your list...Don’t forget to make a BIG CHECKMARK when you find what you’ve been searching for.

Spending time in nature is a great way to learn about the world you live in. You can start in your own backyard by digging in the dirt to find interesting rocks or look extra close at grass and weeds. If you have an area for a garden—you can buy seeds and start planting vegetables like tomatoes, carrots or peppers.

If you don’t have a big backyard, you can walk to a local park to explore with your parent or guardian. Collect leaves, point out trees and bushes, and watch bugs crawl around!

Have fun exploring and enjoying nature!
